TUESDAY, the fifth day of September next, at eleven o'clock, in the forenoon,

Five contiguous Plantations,

Amounting together to about 2700 Acres;

SITUATE on the river Potomac, and within about three miles of the courthouse. These estates formerly belonged to Presley Thornton, Esq. and are the same on which he lived. They have never been seen by either of the subscribers; but it is understood, that about 1700 acres of them are as valuable low grounds as any on the river, and a considerable part thereof heavily timbered.

The uplands consist of about 1000 acres, and the whole is well calculated for the production of corn, wheat, tobacco, timothy, and small grain of all kinds, in great abundance. The waters are said to abound with excellent fish, oysters, and wild fowl. The water-carriage is easy and convenient to Norfolk, Batimore, Alexandria, and the city of Washington; and as these estates possess several good mill seats, with an abundance of water, and a plentiful supply of timber, they must be very valuable.

The premises will be shown to persons inclining to purchase, by Col. James Moore, who lives on them, or by Samuel Blackwell,

Esq. who lives near to them; and the terms of payment may be known a sufficient time before the sale, by applying to either of them,

BULLETIN FROM THE FRENCH ARMY.

VIENNA, May 11.
h at nine of the morning eared before the gates of corps of marshal duke of It was at the same hour, on the day, and exactly one month after the Austrian army had passed the Inn, and the report of these events, the himself marched up the the divisions of Nansou,

On the 5th of May, the Archduke Maximilian, brother of the empress, a young man, 25 years of age, presumptuous, and without experience, of an ardent character, assumed the government of Vienna, and issued the annexed proclamations, No. 1, and No. 2.

It was generally reported in the country that all the entrenchments which surrounding the capital were fortified, that redoubts had been raised, that entrenched camps had been formed, and that the city was determined to defend itself. The emperor had difficultly to believe, that a capital, so generously treated by the French army in 1805, and the good sense and wisdom of whose inhabitants are acknowledged, would be so fanatical as to resolve upon so mad an enterprise. He experienced, therefore, a sweet satisfaction when, on approaching the immense suburbs of Vienna, he saw a numberous population of women, children, and old men, run forward to meet the French army, and receive our soldiers as friends.

Gen. Couroux traversed the suburbs, and Gen. Tharrau repaired to the esplanade which separates them from the city. At the instant he reached it, he was received by a discharge of musketry and cannon, and was slightly wounded.

Of 800,000 inhabitants who compose the population of Vienna, the city, properly so called, which is surrounded by a bastion and a counterscarp scarcely contains 80,000 inhabitants and 1300 houses. The 8 quarters of the town, which have retained the name of suburbs, and are separated from the city by entrenchments inclose more than 5000 houses and are inhabited by more than 220,000 who draw their subsistence from the city, where are markets and shops.

The archduke Maximilian had caused registers to be opened for collecting the names of the inhabitants who were willing to defend themselves. Thirty individuals only inscribed their names all the others refused with indignation. Defeated in his hopes by the good sense of the people of Vienna, he collected 10 battalions of the militia (Landwehr) and ten battalions of the line, composing a force of from 15 to 16,000 men and threw himself within the place.

The duke of Montebello sent him an aid de camp with a summons; but some bat-tlers, and a few hundred fellows, satellites of the archduke Maximilian, rushed upon the Parliamentaire and one of them wounded him. The archduke ordered the wretch who had committed this infamous action to be led in triumph through the city, mounted on the horse of the French officer and surrounded by the militia.

After this unheard of violation of the rights of nations, the horrid spectacle was seen of one part of the city drawing upon the other part, and citizens directing their arms against their fellow citizens.

Gen. Andreossy, appointed governor of the city, organised in each suburb a municipality, a central committee of provisions and a national guard, consisting of merchants, manufacturers and the good citizens of every class, armed to repress proprietors, and evil disposed persons. (pour contenir les proprietaires et les mauvais sujets.)

The gov. gen. caused a deputation of the 8 suburbs to repair to Schonbrunn. The emperor charged them to proceed to the city in order to carry the annexed letter (No.
3) written by maj. gen. the prince of Neufchatel to the archduke Maximilian. He recommended the deputies to represent to the archduke, that if he continued to fire upon the suburbs, and if a single one of the inhabitants lost his life through his arms, this act of frenzy, this crime against the people, would forever break the bonds which attach subjects to their sovereigns.

The deputation entered the city on the 11th at ten of the forenoon, and their arrival was marked only by the redoubled fire from the rampart, 15 inhabitants of the suburbs perished, and only 2 Frenchmen were killed.

The patience of the emperor was wearied out. He proceeded with the duke of Rivoli to the arm of the Danube, which separates the Prater (the fashionable promenade of Vienna) and ordered two companies of Voltigiers to occupy a small pavilion on the left bank, in order to cover the raising of a bridge. The battalion of grenadiers which defended the passage, was driven back by the Voltigeurs and by the grapeshot of 15 pieces of artillery. At 8 of the evening the pavilion was occupied, and the materials of the bridge collected. Capt. Portales, aide-de-camp of the prince of Neufchatel and Suseldi, aide-de-camp of general Bludet, were among the first to swim across the river in order to collect the boats on the opposite shore.

At 9 of the evening a battery of 20 obusses, raised by generals Bertrand and Navaler, at 100 fathoms from the place, began the bombardment; 1800 obusses were shot in less than four hours, and soon the whole appeared to be in flames. One must have seen Vienna, its houses of eight or nine stories, its narrow streets and numerous population within so narrow a compass, in order to form an idea of the tumult, disorder and disasters which such an operation could not but occasion.

The archduke Maximilian had, at one in the morning, caused two battalions to march in close column, in order to attempt retak-ing the pavilion, which covered the raising of the bridge. The two companies of voltiguers received them with a discharge of musketry, which, with the 15 pieces of artillery from the right side, destroyed a part of the column, and forced them to fly in great disorder.

The archduke lost all presence of mind in the midst of the bombardment, and especially at the moment when he heard we had crossed an arm of the Danube, and were on the march to cut off his retreat. As feeble and weak as he had been rash and arrogant, he was the first to fly and recross the bridge.
The respectable general O'Reilly learnt only by the flight of the archduke, that he was invested with the command.

Day-break on the 12th announced to the advanced guard that the firing would cease, and that a deputation was about to be sent to the emperor.

This deputation was presented to his majesty in the park of Schoenbrunn.

His majesty assured the deputies of his protection. He expressed the pain which the inhuman conduct of their sovereign had given him, who had not feared to deliver up his capital to all the calamities of war—who, himself striking a blow at his rights, instead of being the king and father of his subjects had evinced himself their enemy and tyrant. His majesty assured them that Vienna should be treated with the same indulgence and valor which had been displayed in 1805. The deputation answered this assurance by expressions of the most lively gratitude.

At nine of the morning the duke of Ri-voli, with the divisions St. Cyr and Boallet, took possession of the Leopoldstadt.

During this time, lieutenant general O' Reilly sent lieutenant general de Vaux and colonel Bullente to treat for the capitulation of the place. The annexed capitulation, was signed in the evening, and on the 13th, at 6 of the morning, the grenadiers of Oudinot's corps took possession.

[Capitulation in our next.]

Alexandria Daily Gazette.

SATURDAY, JULY 29.

The British Packet Windsor Castle, capt.
Sutton, from Falmouth, via Halifax, arrived at New York on Tuesday last.

By the Packet the editors of the N. York Gazette have received the London Traveller of the evening of the 12th June, from which they have copied the following articles. As the mail was not assorted last evening we are unable to give a regular detail of political and marine information from the London papers and Lloyd's lists.

LONDON, June 12.

Dutch Gazettes to the 8th and Paris papers to the 4th inst. have reached us. The former communicate the death of the gallant Schill. He fell at the head of his brave followers, contending for glory and independence, in the heart of the city of Stralsund, of which it appears he had been in complete possession. Stralsund was attacked by the French gen. Gratien, whose report of the action is not very clear. The fate of the intrepid Schill was a circumstance too important to be passed over, but the conclusion of the affair is not noticed with precision; we are merely told that his troops were thrown into confusion.

The Moniteur contains a detail of the operations of the army of Italy, almost from the first reverses of the Austrians in that quarter of the capture of Trieste, and the junction of the army with that part of the French force in Germany commanded by gen. Lauriston. If we are to give implicit credit to this detail, the trophies gained by his son-in-law, Eugene Beauharnois, are not less brilliant than those of Bonaparte himself in his most successful campaigns.
We are assured that the French army has in this extraordinary career of victory, taken 25,000 prisoners, 60 pieces of cannon, and 10 standards. Of the accomplishment of the object in view, no doubt, we think, can be entertained; but when we are gravely assured, that six hundred Austrians were taken by a lieutenant and twelve men, we are surely justified in considering these official accounts very grossly exaggerated.

We have received Lisbon Gazettes to the 3d inst. The supreme junta of government in Spain has directed a decree confiscating all the property of the Spanish nobles and other persons who had adhered to the French interest; ordering also that these persons therein named, should be arrested and carried before the tribunal of public welfare, to be tried and punished for high treason. The papers contain a correspondence between Marshal Berresford and the Portuguese general Mahy, announcing some partial actions between the latter with the French who were shut up in Lugo when Ney marched to the Asturias. The amount of the French force in Galicia is between six and 7000 men. In an action which took place in Ponte Neuvo, between Mina and Lugo, the French lost 3000 men in killed and wounded, besides 2000 Germans, who deserted, and came over in the Spanish army.
Lugo had been recaptured, and 3000 prisoners taken. According to the accounts transmitted, the situation of marshal Ney is very precarious. There was every reason to suppose, from the aspect of affairs, that Galicia would be speedily cleared of the enemy. A French column of 3000 infantry and 300 horse had been completely routed near Santiago; the remains had fled for Corunna, abandoning the former place, which the Spanish troops entered on the 23d, finding considerable magazines of arms & ammunition therein. The marquis de la Romana was at Santiago. Vigo is occupied by his brother, with a force of 7000 men.

This morning arrived a mail from Cotten-burgh. The possession of Stralsund by the patriotic Schill is mentioned in terms of high satisfaction, but his unfortunate fate does not appear to have been known when the mail when the mail was sent off. The war continues with vigor between the Russians and the Swedes.

At a meeting of the Board of Health, July 25, 1809, It appearing to this Board that great vigilance will be required during the present warm season, to preserve the health of the town, it is there fore ordered, that the Superintendant of Police do pay particular attention to the state of the gutters, backyards of families, allies and privys, and that he cause the gutters to be scraped every other day, and cleaned twice in each week by working of the pumps on Wednesdays and Saturdays, and that he also procure a sufficient quantity of quick lime, and cause the same to be sent round the town on the aforesaid days, for the use of the inhabitants, who are to pay for the same at cost, and that it be considered his particular duty to see that lime be used in all privys requiring it, and over any stagnant places in the gutters, immediately after being scraped, and report the expence to this board once in two weeks.

G. DENEALE, President.

Alexandria, July 28, 1809.

NOTICE.

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR, FOR COUGHS.

THE increasing reputation of Hamilton's Elixir, (which during the last nine years has become celebrated throughout the U. States,) warrants the assertion that it is the best remedy now in use for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas and approaching consumptions. Experience has taught thousands, that the common opiates and balsamics, as they are called, finally aggravate every disorder of the breast and lungs, in the most distressing symptoms, that they load the stomach and impair the digestion, inflame the whole system, increase the difficulty of breathing and excite fever. But the qualities of this valuable discovery are evinced by perfectly opposite effects.

A single trial will prove that it restores the determination of the fluids to the surface of the body and brings on the common healthful perspiration; that it dislodges and evacuate the tough viscid phlegm or mucus, strengthens the weakened vessels of the lungs sheathes the acrimonious liquor which irritates them and finally discharges it. Thus striking at the root of the disorder the symptoms are effectually and permanently conquered, the reverse of common medicine which weakens the constitution and gives strength to the disorder, or the sake of moderating for the present some of its painful effects.

To parents who have children afflicted with the whooping cough, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Select Recommendations.

Philadelphia, August 9, 1806.

Mrs. H. Lee, widow of Richard Lee, jr.
Being desirous to make public for the good of others the excellent quality of Hamilton's Elixir, prepared by the late Mr. Lee, I have sent you the following account of the benefit I have received from it; which I hope will induce others to give it a trial. In consequence of a bruise on the breast received from a fall, my health grew bad, my breathing became very difficult, and frequently I have had suddenly to rise up in my bed with all the horrors of immediate suffocation. Add to these, a constant pain in my breast, and a cough, a great loss of strength and flesh, and you may conceive that my symptoms evidently indicated an approaching consumption. The advice of a most eminent physician was resorted to, and afterwards a second was called in, but without giving me any relief. Another physician, who knew me and the circumstances of my case, advised me to give Hamilton's Elixir a trial, saying, he had used it in his practice, and always found it do much good. A bottle was procured from Mr. Birch's and I found relief before I had taken half of it. I continued to use it, and was soon strong enough to attend to business. On taking cold some of my former symptoms return, but are always removed by a dose or two of the Elixir.

GEO. BENNER, junior,
No. 11, Budd-street, Philadelphia.

Mr. Charles Myers, Hamstead-Hill, near Baltimore, had been a long time dangerously indisposed, and was reduced to the lowest state of weakness, inasmuch that his recovery appeared extremely doubtful. His complaints which seemed to be affections of the breast and lungs, and general debility, occasioned thereby, yielded little, but rather progressed under the treatment of several eminent physicians; when by the use of Hamilton's Elixir, his distressing cough was immediately alleviated, and every other symptom perfectly subdued. Four or five bottles entirely removed his complaints and restored him to an excellent state of health and strength, which he has for upwards of a year past, enjoyed without interruption.

From Luther Martin, esq. late attorney general of Maryland.

I comply with your request in stating my opinion of Hamilton's Elixir. It has been used in my family for two or three years past, with uniform success, whenever coughs, colds, or similar complaints have rendered medicine necessary. I have myself found it an excellent and agreeable remedy for a very painful and troublesome affection of the breast, accompanied with soreness, and with obstructed and difficult breathing.

On these accounts I do not hesitate to recommend Hamilton's Elixir as a valuable medicine, and deserving public attention.

FOR SALE,

The following VALUABLE PROPERTY.

A TRACT OF LAND,

CONTAINING 1600 acres, more or less, called and known by the name of Buffalo Marsh, lying within 12 miles of Winchester, in the county of Frederick, in the state of Virginia. On about 900 acres of this tract there are several very well improved farms tenanted for life or lives, the balance free of all incumbrance, including an excellent merchant mill built with stone, the whole yielding an annual rent of about 200 dollars. Much of this tract is very fertile, well watered, and all abundance of timber. It is generally rolling, but part of it is hilly and stoney, chiefly of lime stone. It will be laid off to suit purchasers.

Another tract, called Hollis's Marsh, lying in the county of Westmoreland, containing about 2800 acres, bordering on the river Potomac, adjoining the Stratford estate, and the late residence of Richard Lee, esq. of Chantilly. On the estate are a number of farms and tenants at will. Part of this land is extremely fertile, and all of it as good as the lands generally are in that part of the country. The Marsh affords excellent range for stock, and is happily situated for fish and fowls of which that river abounds, and must be a desirable estate to any person who may choose to reside in that part of the country. It will however be laid off to suit purchasers.

The above lands are held by deeds of purchase duly recorded in the general court.

Another tract containing 992 acres, lying in the county of Berkeley, adjoining the residence of Raleigh Colston, esq. of which about 660 acres is leased for the balance of the life of an aged man, the rest tenanted at will. This land is situated in what is called the big bend of Potomac, and borders on it. In point of fertility it is esteemed inferior to none in that part of the state and is held by deed from James Marshall, esq.

Seven other tracts containing 1000 acres each, adjoining each other in the county of Mason, within a few miles of the Ohio, between the two Kanhawa's on the waters of Sandy Creek, which runs through a considerable part of it. It adjoins the lands of general Washington, and the late Benjamin Harrison, jun. esq. A large portion of it is rich bottom and the upland of very good quality. It is held under the original patent by deeds duly recorded in the general court.

Five full & complete Shares in the Disinal Swamp Company.

Upwards of 16,000 acres of Lands, being very old military rights, lying in the states of Ohio, Kentucky and the Indiana territory, chiefly patented in my own name and ready to be shewn.

A more particular description of the foregoing property may be seen by applying to Mr. Thomas Taylor, of Richmond, who is authorized to make contracts, or to myself in Alexandria. The titles are all undoubted, and the terms proposed are, one fourth in cash at the time of conveyance, the balance in three instalments, the last two to be on interest from the date. Any species of the public stock and of the different Banks in the United States of Insurance Companies—of the Potomac Bridge and Turnpike Companies will be received in payment according to their fair value. Ground rents in the city of Richmond and town of Alexandria, or Houses and Lots, will likewise be received in payment according to such rates as may be agreed upon.

Patent Washing Machine.

First fill the barrel half full of your finest cloths, than fill the bottom of the Reservoir with hot suds up to the side planks, turn the Crank backwards and forwards so as to make the cloths fall the hardest against the sides of the barrel for about twenty-five minutes, then use the same suds with a little more soap and hot water for the next finest cloths, until the suds are unfit for use, then second your cloths in the same way with boiling suds, after rubbing a little soap on the dirtiest parts of the cloths; then rinse them in the machine with warm or cold water.
